Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Hi,

I just wanted to express my opinion on this issue. I feel very strongly that Microsoft should not be let off with a weak settlement. Despite its claims of innovation, Microsoft has a history of squashing innovation with its Windows monopoly. Internet Explorer was clearly not nearly as good as Netscape several years back. But simply by supplying Explorer with Windows and not allowing vendors to include Netscape, Netscape became all but irrelevant and development basically stopped. The worse product one because it was not a fair market.

If Microsoft is let of with a simple settlement, they have won.

Thank you for listening to my opinion.
